Dear Dr. Lederberg:

Recently I wrote to you about your interesting editorial that appeared in CHEMICAL AND ENGINEERING NEWS. I look forward to receiving from you the full text that I requested in that letter. In the meantime, you might be interested in seeing a xerox copy of a letter I recently received from Congressman Jim Martin. Martin is one of the few chemists in the U.S. Congress. He is a relatively conservative Republican. He was a professor of chemistry at Davidson College (one of the Duke Endowment colleges). I thought you would be interested in seeing that your remarks were entered into the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

Sincerely,

Joseph Bonaventura
